Week in Review

December 5, 2016

As a service to the clients and friends of Governmental Policy Group, Inc. and RH Resources we would like to extend the following weekly update of events happening around Capitol Square.

ADDICTION/SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Police officers would receive qualified immunity from civil liability for issues arising from naloxone use under a new version of mid-biennium review (MBR) legislation SB 319 (Eklund) accepted by the House Finance Committee last week. Officers would receive immunity for any injury, death or loss to person or property allegedly arising from obtaining, maintaining, accessing or administering naloxone, which can reverse the effects of an opioid overdose.

AUDITOR OF STATE

State Auditor Dave Yost has released a compilation of school districts' performance audits, finding that schools offering an open enrollment option had a "range of results" when it came to their net revenues resulting from the program.

EDUCATION

Appellate judges ordered the dismissal of Electronic Classroom of Tomorrow's (ECOT) challenge to a lower court action in its dispute with the state on enrollment reviews, citing jurisdictional issues. Meanwhile, the online charter school says the Ohio Department of Education (ODE) is mistreating it in a separate administrative appeal process.

President-elect Donald J. Trump announced his intent to nominate Betsy DeVos as secretary of the U.S. Department of Education. The Trump transition office describes DeVos, a leader in the national school reform movement for more than two decades, as "a highly successful education advocate, businesswoman and philanthropist."

The Ohio Department of Education (ODE) responded to the General Assembly's mandate in HB 2 that it evaluate the "similar students measure" (SSM) for analyzing schools, determining it would be "neither valid nor useful" as part of Ohio's school accountability system. The measure was developed by the California Charter Schools Association. Lawmakers included a requirement for ODE to report by Dec. 1 in HB 2 (Dovilla-Roegner), the recent charter school reform law.

ELECTIONS 2016

Judge John O'Donnell conceded he lost his Ohio Supreme Court race to First District Court of Appeals Judge Pat Fischer.

ELECTIONS 2018

Senate Minority Leader Joe Schiavoni (D-Boardman) said last week he is setting the groundwork to run for governor in 2018.

ENERGY

Senate members and opponents of alternative energy legislation SB 320 (Seitz) recycled many of the same arguments both for and against the resumption of state mandates on renewables and energy efficiency last week. Asked to restore portfolio standards and defer counter action for further debate, Chairman Troy Balderson (R-Zanesville) of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee said three General Assemblies on the topic was enough. "With all due respect, we've been having this discussion for five years," he told one of more than 60 speakers on the bill, with only three identified as interested parties and the rest as opponents.

After six hours of testimony from more than 60 witnesses, a bill cleared House committee last week that could serve as a vehicle for the long-awaited follow-up to energy "freeze" SB 310 (Balderson) -- current legislation that, according to House Speaker Pro Tem Ron Amstutz (R-Wooster), may well resolve Gov. John Kasich's concerns over a continued delay in energy efficiency and renewable energy standards. Daylong hearings on HB 554 (Amstutz) in the House Public Utilities Committee followed equally lengthy remarks on SB 320 (Seitz) in the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee, and by most of the same witnesses. The overwhelming majority in both cases opposed anything other than a reactivation of stalled energy standards enshrined in SB 221 (Schuler).

FEDERAL

U.S. Rep. Tim Ryan's (D-Niles) longshot bid to become the U.S. House Democratic leader did not succeed last Wednesday, as U.S. Rep. Nancy Pelosi (D-CA) was re-elected by House Democrats.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY/STATEHOUSE

Ahead of last Tuesday meeting of the Sunset Review Committee, Chair Sen. Kris Jordan (R-Powell) released a copy of the proposed report in bill form as well as a cover letter describing the proposed changes. The committee agreed unanimously by those present to send its draft recommendations on to the House and Senate amid some discussions about altering the proposal in committee.

Two Republican lawmakers are seeking to address what happens to a person's online accounts -- such as those on social media, email or banking websites -- when they die or become incapacitated. Reps. Robert Cupp (R-Lima) and Jeff Rezabek (R-Dayton) provided sponsor testimony on HB 602, telling the House Judiciary Committee that it is an important question to answer at this point in time.

GOVERNOR

The governor made the following appointments during the week:

- Dudley H.A. Wright of Johnstown (Licking County) reappointed to the State Board of Emergency Medical, Fire, and Transportation Services for a term beginning Nov. 23, 2016 and ending Nov. 12, 2019.
- Sandra Drabik Collins of Toledo (Lucas County) to the Miami University Board of Trustees for a term beginning Nov. 29, 2016 and ending Feb. 28, 2025.
- Lynn S. Stevens of Hillsboro (Highland County) to the Southern State Community College Board of Trustees for a term beginning Dec. 1, 2016 and ending May 11, 2022.

TRANSPORTATION

Regional efforts to develop a "Smart Mobility Corridor" in Central Ohio took another step forward last week with the announcement of state funding and testing of a self-driving semi-truck. Gov. John Kasich announced the state will invest $15 million to install advanced highway technology along 35 miles of U.S. Route 33, and the truck used that route to travel from Dublin to East Liberty.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

The House started deliberations on the latest proposal to overhaul unemployment compensation benefits, with Rep. Kirk Schuring (R-Canton) saying he tried to strike a balanced approach in HB 620 that mirrored his past work on reforms to state pension systems. Schuring's HB 620 is mirrored by a companion, SB 374, sponsored by Sen. Bob Peterson (R-Sabina), and is based on the work of a joint reform committee that met earlier this year. The House Government Accountability and Oversight Committee had three hearings on the bill last week, while Senate Ways and Means Committee had two, with business groups voicing strong backing while labor and other policy groups lodged objections.

UTILITIES

Last Wednesday, the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO) accepted results of Duke Energy Ohio's fourth wholesale auction that will help determine Duke's retail generation service rates through May 2018.

Sen. Bill Seitz (R-Cincinnati) told the crowd at last week's Senate Public Utilities Committee hearing that the forthcoming vote to recommend that the full Senate not approve the appointment of M. Howard Petricoff to the state's utilities commission wasn't about his qualifications or character but about his past involvement as an energy lobbyist. "I don't think there's any question that Mr. Petricoff, by his long, illustrious career, is qualified, is competent, has got a wonderful resume. I hope that the vote on this motion is not a reflection on his qualifications, because he is qualified," Seitz said. "However, there were concerns about the process by which this has come to us, and there were concerns about the number of recusals that he would have to be engaged in." Mr. Petricoff has since announced his resignation.
