Week in Review

July 6, 2018

As a service to the clients and friends of Governmental Policy Group, Inc. and RH Resources we would like to extend the following weekly update of events happening around Capitol Square.

ADDICTION/SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Auditor Dave Yost released a report recently that shows the number of Ohio Medicaid recipients with an opioid-related diagnosis (dependence, abuse or overdose) climbed 430 percent between 2010 and 2016, with the state now providing assistance to a growing number of Ohioans addicted to opioids. The Office of Health Transformation said the report shows the necessity of Gov. John Kasich's decision to expand Medicaid because of the access to addiction services it provides.

BALLOT ISSUES

Two groups submitted signatures on two separate proposed constitutional amendments by Wednesday's deadline in order to qualify for the November ballot. According to the secretary of state's office, 472,308 signatures were submitted for the Kidney Dialysis Patient Protection amendment, which would cap the amount of profit dialysis clinics can make and would require regular inspections on clinics. The secretary of state's office also said 730,031 signatures were submitted for the Neighborhood Safety, Drug Treatment and Rehabilitation amendment, which would reduce some drug penalties down to misdemeanors and promotes rehabilitation over incarceration.

BUSINESS/CORPORATE

Restaurant sales are "soaring" as part of the state's "robust business environment," according to a recent quarterly report by the Ohio Restaurant Association (ORA) that found 382 new establishments and 6,400 employees were added last year, citing the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

EDUCATION

Innovation Ohio's Steve Dyer and Central Ohio educators gathered Monday to highlight the effects of the now-shuttered Electronic Classroom of Tomorrow (ECOT) on Central Ohio schools' budgets and criticize Republicans for enabling the defunct online charter school for years. Dyer called a press conference outside the state offices of Attorney General Mike DeWine, who he said should be pursuing "serious criminal probes" given the thousands of children affected by the school's downfall and the millions of dollars at stake. DeWine's office countered that it's "shocking that they don't understand Ohio law," which holds that the attorney general's original prosecutorial authority is constrained to limited topics such as Medicaid fraud and organized crime. On most matters, DeWine can only prosecute at the request of other authorities.

William Lager, founder of Electronic Classroom of Tomorrow (ECOT), violated public contract law and his fiduciary duty to the online school by doing business with it through two other companies tied to him, and he could be on the hook for hundreds of millions of dollars, Attorney General Mike DeWine's office argued in a civil court filing Tuesday.

The summer application window for Ohio's EdChoice Scholarship Program is now open for eligible students interested in applying for a scholarship for the 2018-19 school year. The deadline to apply is Tuesday, July 31.

ELECTIONS 2018

Democratic attorney general candidate Steve Dettelbach, a former federal prosecutor, released a new policy platform Tuesday outlining how he would go after perpetrators and help victims of human trafficking, calling for several changes to Ohio law. Dettelbach noted that he worked on trafficking cases in other states as a federal prosecutor before becoming the U.S. attorney for the Northern District of Ohio under the Obama administration, when he worked on several cases as well.

Ohio Secretary of State Jon Husted announced Tuesday that Jonathan Heavey and Adam Hudak, who had filed petitions to run as independent candidates for governor and lieutenant governor in the 2018 General Election, failed to meet the minimum valid signature requirements for certification to the November ballot.

The following endorsements were made over the week:

ENVIRONMENT

The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency (Ohio EPA) is offering financial assistance through the Water Pollution Control Loan Fund (WPCLF) to help low- to moderate-income homeowners repair and replace failing home sewage treatment systems (HSTS). Depending on the household income and the number of residents, homeowners may qualify for 50 percent to 100 percent of the total costs for HSTS repair or replacement, Ohio EPA said in a news release.

Harmful algal blooms are already present in Lake Erie's Western Basin, Central Basin and Sandusky Bay, according to a bulletin issued by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) on Thursday. "The microcystis cyanobacteria bloom continues in the Western Basin. Recent satellite imagery indicates the bloom is still present along both the Michigan and Ohio coasts of Maumee Bay, 15 miles offshore the Michigan coast extending east of West Sister Island to Isle St. George, and 7 miles northwest of Pelee Island," NOAA said.

President Donald Trump on Thursday accepted the resignation of U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) Administrator Scott Pruitt, who has been plagued with a number of reported scandals over his tenure. Heather Taylor-Miesle, executive director at the Ohio Environmental Council, provided the following statement: "After a year and a half of ethical transgressions against our environment, Scott Pruitt was forced to resign thanks in part to organizations around the country like the Ohio Environmental Council and others calling out dangerous actions."

FEDERAL

Ohio's U.S. senators lauded the passage of the Senate version of the federal 2018 Farm Bill late Thursday night, with U.S. Sen. Sherrod Brown (D-OH) drawing attention to provisions in the bill he helped secure, including the removal of proposed work requirements to receive Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY/STATEHOUSE

Gov. John Kasich announced Monday he's appointing Rep. Jeff Rezabek (R-Dayton) to be a juvenile judge in Montgomery County, the position Rezabek was seeking election to on the fall ballot. Juvenile Judge Nick Kuntz died earlier this year, shy of his required retirement from the bench at year's end because of Ohio's constitutional age limits for judges. Rezabek announced in January he would seek the juvenile court seat rather than a third term in the House.

The upper chamber will be in session on Tuesday, July 10 if payday lending reform bill HB123 (Koehler-Ashford) is ready for a vote, Senate President Larry Obhof (R-Medina) told Hannah News Thursday.

GOVERNOR

Gov. John Kasich signed executive orders Friday that permit the emergency filing of Medicaid rules allowing behavioral health providers with certain criminal convictions to continue working after July 1, and that authorize the Governor's Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives (GOFBCI) to spend $6.54 million in Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) funds on a variety of support programs.

Gov. John R. Kasich Friday signed 15 bills into law.

- HB8 (Hambley-Rezabek) exempts from the Public Records Law certain information concerning a minor that is included in a record related to a traffic accident involving a school vehicle.
- HB21 (Hambley) makes changes regarding community school -- enrollments, school sponsor evaluation system, and exemptions for certain chartered nonpublic schools from state testing and graduation requirements; eliminates the current Education Management Information System (EMIS) Advisory Board, and requires the Department of Education to establish a new EMIS Advisory Council.

- Justin Howe of Cincinnati (Hamilton County) to the Cincinnati State Technical and Community College Board of Trustees for a term beginning July 3, 2018, and ending Aug. 31, 2022.

HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

The Ohio Department of Medicaid (ODM) issued a report Friday saying that, with the implementation of behavioral health redesign and the transition of these services into managed care effective Sunday, July 1, that the state has also successfully met the extended deadline of July 1, 2018 it received from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to meet federal requirements of the Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act of 2008 (MHPAEA). Under that act, plans that included mental health and substance use treatment benefits were required to make the coverage proportionate with other medical benefits.

After undergoing a big change to make them more secure, Medicare cards started to be mailed to recipients at the end of April -- a process that won't be completed until the end of April 2019. The Better Business Bureau (BBB), however, warns about scammers taking advantage of this switchover.

IMMIGRATION

Students from the Children's Defense Fund (CDF) Freedom Schools marched to the Statehouse steps Thursday, waving signs and reciting pro-immigrant chants as a part of their "Where Are the Kids?" rally meant to draw attention to family separation of migrants at the nation's southern border.

JUDICIAL

The Cuyahoga County Domestic Relations Court violated a woman's constitutional rights by appointing her a guardian ad litem in a divorce case without first allowing the woman to challenge the appointment in a competency hearing, the Ohio Supreme Court ruled.

The Ohio Supreme Court's 2017 annual report features both significant cases and civic education highlights from the last year which included the seating of two new justices -- Justices Patrick F. Fischer and R. Patrick DeWine. Court decisions featured in the report include the following: the unconstitutionality of three state law provisions regulating red light and speed cameras, and a county coroner's successful attempt to deny unredacted autopsy reports of a mass murder.

The Supreme Court of Ohio wants to make it easier for lawyers and judges to meet required hours for continuing legal education (CLE) by reducing minimum course length and by allowing all 24 hours of biennial credit to be acquired through self-study webinars. The Court is seeking public comment on proposed amendments to Rule X of the Rules for the Government of the Bar of Ohio requested by the Supreme Court Judicial College and Ohio State Bar Association (OSBA).

A series of rule changes affecting practice and procedure in Ohio's courts took effect July 1. Amendments alter rules governing civil, criminal and juvenile proceedings and rules of evidence. Proposed changes were submitted to the Ohio Supreme Court by its Commission on the Rules of Practice and Procedure and incorporate two rounds of public comments.

MARIJUANA

The Medical Marijuana Control Program (MMCP) issued its first certificate of operation to FN Group Holdings Friday, according to Ohio Department of Commerce (DOC) spokesperson Stephanie Gostomski. The level-two cultivator, which she said will do business as WellSpring Fields in Ravenna (Portage County), can now begin planting. In addition, two provisional licenses for university testing laboratories were also issued to Central State University in Wilberforce (Greene County) and Hocking College in Nelsonville (Athens County).

NATURAL RESOURCES

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR) announced it will participate in "Operation Dry Water" as part of a nationally-coordinated effort to increase knowledge about the dangers of boating under the influence (BUI). Alcohol use is the leading known contributing factor in recreational boating deaths," ODNR said.

PUBLIC SAFETY

The Ohio State Highway Patrol said that eight individuals lost their lives in traffic fatalities from July 3 through July 4, while another 296 were arrested for operating a vehicle while intoxicated (OVI). An additional 276 arrests were made during traffic stops for drug-related charges. Traffic fatalities are down from last year, when 21 people died in car crashes, according to the highway patrol.

Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR) officers issued eight boating under the influence (BUI) violations and 102 other citations during "Operation Dry Water" last weekend, the department has announced. There were three boating-related fatalities in Ohio during the weekend crackdown, which aims to educate boaters about the importance of soberly operating vessels.

TRANSPORTATION/INFRASTRUCTURE

The Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles (BMV) this week introduced a single, central point of production for state driver licenses and identification cards which it said will "ensure greater security and identification protection for customers." The changes were effective Monday, July 2 and bring Ohio into compliance with federal regulations.

Engineers at the University of Cincinnati (UC) are taking to the sky to improve traffic safety in one of the busiest driving states in America, according to the university. UC's College of Engineering and Applied Science assembled a team of experts in computer science and electrical, mechanical and aerospace engineering to help Ohio's Department of Transportation (ODOT) to use drones to assist core business functions such as monitoring traffic, inspecting bridges and improving safety for drivers.

UTILITIES

A long list of intervenors is seeking to weigh in on American Electric Power (AEP) of Ohio's attempt to address a majority of consumer issues raised by Republicans' federal Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA) in a standalone case separate from the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio's (PUCO) pending investigation into ratepayer tax rebates.

VETERANS

Retired Army Lt. Gen. Michael Ferriter will serve as the National Veterans Memorial and Museum (NVMM) president and CEO, the downtown Columbus institution recently announced ahead of its fall 2018 opening. Ferriter assumed the role immediately following the June 19 announcement, and on June 21 the memorial and museum was officially received federal recognition.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

The Ohio Bureau of Workers' Compensation (BWC) is expanding its safety grant program to provide $8 million for Ohio schools and police departments as part of two-year, $44 million safety investment following the $1.5 billion rebate program.

The Ohio Bureau of Workers' Compensation (BWC) announced Friday that 75 Ohio fire departments will be awarded funds from the Firefighter Exposure to Environmental Elements Grant Program totaling $745,000. The grants will help purchase safety gear, exhaust systems and specialized washing machines to help protect firefighters from carcinogens and other harmful elements.

The Ohio Bureau of Workers' Compensation (BWC) has awarded more than $2.9 million in grants to 110 Ohio employers to purchase equipment designed to substantially reduce or eliminate workplace injuries and illnesses. BWC said employers receiving grants operate in 56 counties around the state.
